 After six months $1.50

The Grand jury adjourned Saturday after having reported 34 indictments.

The jury in the case of Dick Woods, (col.) charged with murder, disagreed and were finally discharged.

Geo. McCormick sold on Wednesday to Mrs. Chas. Schaeffer a house and lot on Howard Avenue for $2,750.

George McCormick on Thursday sold the John C. Wood property, on Queen street, to Mrs. A. B. Johnson, for $1,200.

A Nashville jury has decided that under the gambling act Mrs. McTeer could recover $13,000 lost by her husband in bucket shop speculations.

Col. A. T. Wood and Hon. Z. T. Young, are in Frankfort to argue the case before the Court of Appeals in the case of State vs. Barnes' appeal from Menifee court.

J. L. Overly, of North Middletown, has moved to Sharpsburg. He bought of Messrs. Mason, Whitt & Greene the Mt. Sterling and Sharpsburg stage line and took possession yesterday.

Miss Annie Johnson will return from her school at Cincinnati tomorrow evening, accompanied by her sister Miss Pattie who has been visiting her, for a couple of weeks past.

Judge I. M. Varnsdell and family have moved to this city and will make this their future home. They will occupy the property on Queen street Judge Varnsdell recently purchased of George McCormick.

Leonce Burthe, the main witness against the jury bribers, who fled the city before the cases were called, is in custody at St. Louis. He admits that he got $1,000 for disappearing from New Orleans.

The Grand Jury refused to return an indictment against Jno. W. Taul, who was arrested some two weeks since, on the charge of shooting Arthur Owens, in this city, about two years ago. The evidence instead of showing he did the shooting was plain that he did not do it.

Judge R. Wellington, of Prestonburg, a prominent lawyer and ex-Treasurer of Floyd county, was killed last Wednesday at Washington, Ind. In stepping from one train to another he fell between the cars, breaking his neck. He was about fifty years of age and quite a prominent man of his section.

The closing exercises of the Mt. Sterling Training School take place to-night at the Southern Presbyterian church. Prof. Fowler promises a short programme. He has a dread of wearing his audience out with a long, if not tedious entertainment. The examinations for the close of the term have been in progress for a week past and close to-day.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Owingsville and Mt. Sterling Turnpike Company, was held in this city on Saturday and a President and Board of Directors was elected for the ensuing year. The following compose the Board from Bath: President, A. W. Bascom; Directors, Jeff Rice and Perry Goodpaster; and from Montgomery, Col. A. W. Hamilton, Joshua Owings and John T. Magowan.

Saturday was Decoration Day and was universally observed by our people. The banks all closed their doors and business was largely suspended. The people with one accord went to our beautiful cemetery and covered the graves of their loved ones with beautiful flowers. The custom observed here is in not only decorating the resting-places of those who died for their country, but of extending this loving tribute to all who have laid down the burden of their earth cares. This beautiful custom is more extensively observed here than anywhere in our acquaintance. It is a custom that keeps alive the tenderest feelings of our nature.

The jury in the case of the Wiggintons was composed of as good a set of men as ever filled a jury box in this or any other county. They certainly did their duty as they saw it, and the people of this county with one accord tender to these good gentlemen from Bath, who at this busy season of the year so patiently and faithfully listened to the evidence and the arguments presented to them, their hearty thanks. It would have been next to impossible to procure a jury in this county, since the matter had been so widely canvassed, and they helped us out of a very troublesome case. The verdict meets with general approval, though of course many expected a death sentence, but then they were not sworn jurymen.

The trial of the Wiggintons for the murder of Ferguson and Watts has been in progress in our court here since Wednesday. The jury an exceptionally good one, was brought from Bath and was selected from a list of seventy-seven. The following gentlemen composed the panel, viz: J. M. Leach, S. J. Sidwell, Seth Botts, James Ware, W. M. Kirk, J. H. Scott, Sam Howard, L. S. Rogers, Jno. Bell, Robert Schultz, J. F. Shepherd, J. N. Sweatman. Messrs. Kinsolving, Wood and Day were appointed by the court to defend, and these gentlemen have ably conducted their side of the case. The prosecution was represented by Commonwealth Attorney Redwine and Col. Z. T. Young who did their whole duty. On Saturday night about nine o'clock the case was given to the jury and on Monday morning they brought in a verdict of guilty against each of the defendants and fixed the punishment at imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. We understand they will move for a new trial.

Father P. Jones, of this city, was in Cincinnati last week. He returned by way of Paris, where he stopped on Sunday and took part in the ordination of Father Jas. Gorey, who is entering the ministry.

Did You Ever

Hear of such prices on goods as are given by Thos. Whitt, the jeweler. I will guarantee that I can discount prices 10 to 20 per cent offered by any house in the city. Is this worth saving when you get the same quality of goods at such a discount? For the next thirty days I will sell watches, clocks, jewelry, and optical goods at very close prices. I have a nice line of gold filled watches, and I keep all the leading American and foreign makes of watches, from ordinary to the best quality, and I guarantee all one year, to be good time keepers.

Thos. Whitt,
Mt. Sterling, Ky.

I will sell, at public sale, Saturday June 13, a very desirable home, situated on Howard avenue, one of the most desirable residence streets of Mt. Sterling.

C. W. HARRIS.

The partnership heretofore existing between Thos. W. Priest and E. S. Cunningham in the insurance business has been dissolved by mutual consent.

Major Fowler informs us that Mr. Carter is to have the contract for erecting his new study hall and class rooms on the property recently leased by him. He also informs us that he is going to be prepared to board his pupils from a distance, and he has several already pledged, with fine prospects for more. He evidently means business, and if the people will give him earnest support, we shall have a boys college here before we know it.

Prof. M. L. Goodwin has never had a more successful year than the past one, in his school. That he is highly appreciated by the people of this community no better evidence can be given than that his number of pupils has been full the entire session. He limits himself to thirty pupils and long before his term began his school was full. Mr. Goodwin needs no introduction from us to this people. He has been here too long and is too well-known to need a word of commendation from anyone. But we intend to say that any parent is perfectly safe in entrusting the education of his boy in his hands.

A telegram was received here yesterday about noon giving the distressing intelligence that Frank Samuels, son of Mr. John Samuels, of this city, had been killed by being run over by a train at Ashland a few minutes before the dispatch was sent. There were no further particulars beyond the fact that he was about to board a train and his foot slipped. His body will be brought here for burial to-day on the 11 o'clock train. His funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at the Methodist church, by the Rev. J. S. Lyons and Dr. R. Hiner. B. F. Samuels was twenty-eight years old at the time of his death. He was liked by everyone; a born musician, genial and companionable; generous and liberal, what he had was open to any friend's use. Mr. Samuels and his family have the deepest sympathy of the community in this hour of their sore trial.

The case of Math Vaughn, charged with obtaining property under false pretense, was transferred from the Montgomery to the Morgan Circuit Court. This is a case where Math Vaughn, of Morgan county, owned a mare which he had mortgaged to Coon Womack. Upon the foreclosure of the mortgage he conspired with Van Vaughn to run her off to Elliott county where they agreed with one John W. Keeton, who was to pass himself off as Frank Resner, to take charge of her and sell her, dividing the proceeds. With the shares the Vaughns should get they were to pay off the mortgage and then come to the man to whom Keeton had sold the mare, prove property and take her. The full programme was carried out, but the officers also discovered their game so they, Keeton and Vaughn, were indicted in this court, but thinking the case would be easier handled in the Morgan court where the witnesses live, the case was transferred.

The Fair and Trotting Association.

There will be a mass meeting of the citizens of Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county June 5, to complete the organization of a Fair and Trotting Association. Every man in the county, no matter of what occupation, will be benefitted, and every one should attend. The shares are at a price as to be within reach of every one, and that it will be a paying investment, goes without question. The Fair at Sharpsburg pays 20 per cent. dividends. The Lexington stock is worth $400 per share. It will be worth more to this vicinity than two car shop factories. We trust that the people will attend "en masse" at the meeting Friday afternoon, 3 o'clock at Commercial Club building, over Tabb & Galt's.

Times without number it has been asked by those people who notice what is going on about them, "How is that Dr. Bogman has built up such an enormous practice?" To a friend he answered: "My to-days and yesterday are the blocks with which I build." The doing each and every day his very best for the diseased and suffering people who avail themselves of his treatment, has made him successful and has thereby endeared him to them and to their friends, and their friends' friends, until his name has become a household word. One may know of the delicate mechanism of the finest watch and think it no great matter while the watch does its work well, but if its tiny parts become broken, worn or displaced, none but the hand of a master workman can put them together. Much more is this the case when the most intricate and delicate of all organizations—the human body—becomes the subject of chronic disease. Fine spun theories are of no avail. It must feel the touch of the master hand—one who is familiar with, not only the mechanism, but with the causes and results of the existing derangement—one who knows just what the disease is, and just what will cure it. No one cares to be made the subject of an experiment. Dr. Bogman has made himself the master of chronic disease, and where he is known his practice is most extensive. He will be at the National Hotel, June 6th, one day only. Consultation is free, and all who are afflicted with chronic disease should avail themselves of his treatment.

School Exercises.

EDITOR ADVOCATE:

I had the pleasure of attending the closing exercises of Miss Pearl Hainline's school at Henry Graves', on Pealed Oak, last Friday and must say that it was one of the most enjoyable occasions of the kind that it has ever been my good fortune to attend. The following programme was served up, much to the edification and amusement of an appreciative audience:

Duet, (Raymond's Kill Gallop), by Allie Graves and Bessie Botts.

Speech, (Nobody's Child), Nannie Shroat.

Speech, (The Two Glasses), Roy Botts.

Dialogue, (Aunt Betsy's Ruse).

Music, (Home Memories), Jennie Graves.

Speech, (The Bridge Keepers Story), Allie Graves.

Speech, (A Yankee in Love), Roy Botts.

Music, (What are the Wild Waves Saying), Bessie Botts.

Speech, (A Busy Small Boy), Virgil Barnes.

Dialogue, (The Postal Card).

Speech, (The Dead Doll).

Trio, (Coming of Spring), Misses Jennie and Allie Graves and Bessie Botts.

Speech, (Ask Mama), Pearl Barnes.

Dialogue, (The Widow Blinker).

Music, (Old Black Joe), Allie Graves.

Speech, (The Diamond Wedding), Jennie Graves.

Dialogue, (Doxey's Diplomacy).

Speech, (Church Reveries of a School Girl), Bessie Botts.

Duet, (Two Sisters), Jennie and Allie Graves.

Valedictory by Nannie Shroat.

Song, (God be With You Till we Meet Again), by patrons and friends.

Prayer by Dr. H. F. Walker.

The proficiency of the pupils in their respective studies reflected great credit upon Miss Pearl, and both pupil and patron will ever cherish for her a fond memory for duty done.

Bon.

In almost every neighborhood throughout the west there is some one or more persons whose lives have been saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or who have been cured of chronic diarrhoea by it. Such persons take especial pleasure in recommending the remedy to others. The praise that follows its introduction and use makes it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by T. G. Julian.

Crop Outlook.

Capt. B. A. Tracy, solicitor for the Kentucky Tobacco Growers Warehouse, in writing thus speaks of the crop prospects of several counties in this section. We offer no excuse for giving our friends the benefit of his observations.

"In traveling through the counties of Clark, Montgomery, Bath, Nicholas and Fleming, soliciting consignments of tobacco for the Growers Warehouse, my attention has been called in almost every neighborhood to the very unpromising prospect for raising a crop of almost any kind in the year 1891, it is unprecedentedly dry everywhere I have been. Much of the land intended for cultivation this year has not yet been broken, and two thirds of that which has been ploughed is so intensely cloddy and hard, that it looks like it would be next to impossible to grow a crop on it. There are some good wheat fields, but usually it is very low with universally short heads, oats are a complete failure, grass, very short, and about one third of the intended crop of corn not yet planted, and much of the land intended to be used not yet ploughed. There has been but little tobacco set in any of these counties, not half of the land intended for tobacco has been prepared and cannot be until rain falls in sufficient quantities to soften the land. Altogether the farmer's prospect for 1891 is decidedly gloomy."

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. J. S. Lyons filled Rev. H. L. Nave's pulpit on Sunday morning and the pulpit in his own church at the evening service. He was greeted by full congregations, and gave them two excellent sermons.

Rev. H. D. Clark preached morning and night on Sunday at the Christian church. There was one addition at each service.

Rev. J. S. Lyons preached at Springfield Sunday afternoon. He will also conduct services there next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and join in the worship.

DEATHS.

Died at the residence of his son, Ed. Heaton, on Thursday, May 28, 1891, near Judy, Thos. V. Heaton, aged 65 years. Mr. Heaton had been in bad health and in consequence a great sufferer for sometime, but no one heard one murmur or complaint from his lips, let his suffering be ever so severe. He bore it all patiently till the end came. He was born and reared in St. Lawrence county, New York. His father was a man of means sufficient to give him the best of educational facilities which he improved in full. He came to this county about 35 years ago where he married Miss Wren, daughter of Thomas Wren, and to them were born two sons, Edward, of this county, and Thomas, who lives in one of the Western States. After the death of his first wife Mr. Heaton married a Miss Frazier and to them were born two sons who now live in Texas. His remains were buried on Friday at Springfield church.

On Thursday evening the body of Dr. Charles Lee Mason, who was so ruthlessly murdered in Kingston, New Mexico, on the evening of May 22, reached the city, and on Friday morning a vast concourse of friends gathered to pay love's last tribute to all that was mortal of him. The two I. O. O. F. lodges, Grassy Lick and Watson, turned out in full and escorted the remains to their last resting-place. At 10:30 o'clock Rev. R. Hiner conducted a funeral service at the Methodist church, after which the Odd-Fellows took charge of the remains and laid them away with the impressive ritual of their order.

Friendly hands piled beautiful flowers, done in all designs, till the grave was lost under the wealth of loving tributes placed above it. His sun went down while it was yet early morn with him, but upon no more generous, noble and gentle a life did the darkness of the grave ever fall. May he rest in peace against that day that shall right all wrongs and may the Good Father take in his arms the stricken ones and comfort them as only he can.

For Sale.

I will sell at public sale, on Saturday, June 13, my residence on Howard Avenue. The lot has a frontage of 75 feet; on it a dwelling of 9 rooms, besides halls, veranda, double porches, etc., 2 good cisterns, fruit and outbuildings. In short, a very complete home. Also at the same time 2 building lots of 55 feet front each, on the same street and adjoining the above named property.

C. W. HARRIS.

Mr. Charles Keesee is a candidate for Councilman in the 4th ward. Uncle Charlie is one of the cleverest men at all, and has made a most faithful and painstaking official. We hope to see him returned to the Council for the coming term. The fact that he is temporarily out of the ward does not invalidate his eligibility to a seat in the Council, as he will in the immediate future build and move back to his ward.

Fresh and cured meats at Gay Settles & Co. 43-2t.

Messrs. Baum, Keesee, Turner and Watson are the only positively announced candidates for Councilman which we are advised. We have heard a number of other names, among them, C. H. Bryan, who, if he had consented to run, would have had no opposition.

Vegetables of all kinds fresh and nice at Gay Settles & Co. 43-2t.

We are authorized to announce Mr. Adam Baum for Councilman from the First ward. Mr. Baum is one of the largest property owners in the city, a public spirited gentleman, but withal economical and painstaking. He would be liberal where it was to the city's interest to spend money, and economical when economy was called for. A better man for Councilman we do not know, let him be whom he may, nor do we believe there will be a more acceptable man than Mr. Baum to the people of his ward, and of the city in general. We are free to say we had no idea that pressure enough could be brought to bear on him to induce him to make the race. Now that he has consented to do so, he will be a hard man
